[Excerpts, emphasis, comment added]

"We can confirm that several members of the Department's Defense Policy Board have been removed," a US defense official told Insider Friday following an earlier report from Foreign Policy that revealed that at least 11 of the board's 13 members were removed Wednesday by a directive sent by the Pentagon's White House liaison Joshua Whitehouse."

"The board members who were removed reportedly included former Secretaries of State Madeleine Albright and Henry Kissinger, former Chief of Naval Operations Adm. (Ret.) Gary Roughead, and former chief operating officer at the Pentagon Rudy De Leon.

"Foreign Policy reported that the others ousted from the board include former Bush deputy national security adviser J.D. Crouch II, former House Majority Leader Eric Cantor, former ranking member of the House Intelligence Committee Jane Harman, former Bush Treasury undersecretary David McCormick, former Clinton deputy attorney general Jamie Gorelick, former nuclear negotiator Robert Joseph, and former top defense official Franklin Miller."

"It is unclear what the status of the remaining two members is." [CLL: Paula Dobriansky and James Talent]

"In a statement reported by CNN, acting Secretary of Defense Christopher Miller said that he is 'grateful to the departing board members, many of whom have served for decades,' adding that "as we adapt the Department for great power competition, I look forward to naming new board members in the coming days.' "

"Miller has only been on the job at the Pentagon about two weeks, as he arrived as part as a major shake-up of the Department of Defense's civilian leadership earlier this month."

"Starting on Nov. 9, President Donald Trump abruptly fired his Mark Esper as secretary of defense, replacing him with Miller, who was previously the director of the National Counterterrorism Center."

"The next day, several high profile Pentagon officials resigned: the chief of staff to the secretary of defense, Jen Stewart; the under secretary of defense for policy, James Anderson; and the under secretary of defense for intelligence and security, Joseph Kernan."

"Anthony Tata, a retired general and former Fox News commentator who the Trump administration sidestepped Congress to place in the Pentagon, replaced Anderson, and Kash Patel and Ezra Cohen-Watnick, both former members of the National Security Council also considered loyal to the president, replaced Stewart and Kernan."

"The administration's moves to install Trump loyalists, some considered unqualified, in senior Pentagon positions caused some alarm, largely because the purpose was unclear given that Trump lost the election to President-elect Joe Biden, who will take office in January."
